2013 HTEC Conferences - In Review

Twelve Regional HTEC conferences and the Annual July Conference were held in 2013 with a total of 1171 educators and partners in attendance. In 2013 we convened our 1st Canadian HTEC Conference at NAIT. Also Indiana held their 1st state event at Purdue University in May. Conferencing is our most powerful method of reaching and helping this large group of machining teachers to learn more about how to effectively use Haas CNC equipment in education. Conferences provide face-to-face contact with many HTEC Partners and their available partner developed educational hardware and software. Conferences also focus on how to better recruit and prepare students for future manufacturing careers. Conference attendees cite networking with other educators, HTEC partners and touring other programs as invaluable.
